

Association of Independent Wealth Managers (Singapore)

The industry body for External Asset Managers and Multi-Family Offices in Singapore

Established in 2011, the Association of Independent Wealth Managers (Singapore) is the representative industry body for External Asset Managers (EAMs) and Multi-Family Offices (MFOs) in Singapore. Recognised by the Monetary Authority of Singapore (MAS), it is a diverse and consultative trade association that drives the development of Singapore’s independent wealth management industry.

As the leading industry advocate for independent wealth managers, AIWM Singapore actively promotes dialogue and engagement between regulators and various stakeholders within the community.

AIWM Singapore is also committed to championing best industry practices, strengthening the visibility and reputation of independent wealth managers, fostering collaboration among industry peers, and empowering members through continuous education, training development and networking opportunities.

The Association has over 80 active member firms from EAMs, MFOs, banks and service providers in Singapore.

ABOUT INDEPENDENT WEALTH MANAGERS

Independent Wealth Managers, also known as External Asset Managers or Independent Asset Managers (IAMs), are non-bank wealth managers regulated by the MAS, and they range from independent management firms to family offices and individual advisers.

Concentrating on private investors and high net worth individuals, independent wealth managers offer a flexible, holistic and strategic approach to wealth management. With a focus on client centricity, independent wealth managers provide bespoke investment advice and solutions that are tailor-made to clients’ individual needs in this fast-changing market environment.

As the number of independent wealth managers continues to grow in Singapore and across Asia, they are increasingly recognised as valued players in Singapore’s financial ecosystem.

AIWM fosters more collaboration in the industry. It is a great place to develop new relationships.
